We are both very well. I have not taken bark for this ten or twelve days; my reason was, becaus I had no snakeroot. I spoke to Mr Hardin to get some for me, but it has not been in his power yet. - - - - - - - - -

There is to be a quarterly examination the last of this week, & a good many of the trustees are to be here. I expect there will be a very good opportunity of writing by General Davie, as I suppose he will return to Halifax, within two or three weeks; and after he gets there, he can send it to Windsor by the post.

We have not yet began to study the English Grammar, but Mr Kerr intends that we shall begin it after the examination. I bought a couple of Grammars of Mr Kerr, as he has a large supply of them.

I am very sorry that you got disappointed in going to the general convension, but am very glad that you returned when you heard of the yallow fever. it has not come this way as I have heard.

There are now 60 students, & they are all very well, except one who had a fit or two of the ague and fever. I shall now inform you of an affair that happened last week, which I am very sorry for, that is that one of the students was banished; it was for going to a cotton picking after eight at night; he, with some others, had left the Colledge before, after eight, & received privater admonition by the Faculty: after that two of them
